Expanded Polypropylene is an advanced protective system that's significantly lighter than the traditional foam inside most batters helmets. In fact, EPP is one of the lightest protective materials on the market. Yet, it doesn't sacrifice performance.

Our EPP impact absorption liner is part of a three layer protection system in the XR1 and XR2 batter's helmets. It distributes the load and energy of impacts across the entirety of the helmet shell, effectively dissipating that energy away from the player.

The EPP impact absorption liner is uniquely formed and ventilated to maximize performance and air flow throughout the helmet.

HELMET FITTING GUIDE ₹

Measure the circumference of the player's head at its widest point, about 1" above the player's eyebrows.

The helmet bill should be parallel to the ground, 1" above the eyebrows. If a faceguard is attached, you should have an unobstructed view.

Helmet should fit snug, without pinching or feeling too tight.

4 Give the bill of the helmet a solid tap while the player is wearing it. Helmet should NOT move independently of the player's head. If it does, the helmet is too big.
